Dear Friends,

In general, when a missionary sits down to plan their presentation or write a prayer letter, they try to show the positive and down—play the struggles of ministry and life. These past few months we have had joy mixed in with pain. One of the goals of any church planting missionary is to work themselves out of a job. That is, to bring the church to the place where the missionary is no longer needed. After talking with the men of IIBC, our sending church, and seeking God's will in prayer, IIBC has reached that point. As a result, our last service as Missionary Pastor at Incheon International Baptist Church was October 29th. This is a joyful yet painful time. Although we cannot dictate the next pastor, we have recommended to the church that they call a young man that has served along side us for the past several years. We believe that God has great things in store for IIBC.

Our desire is to take the next couple of months and do two things. First, we would like to refresh our Korean language ability. Serving here in Incheon has hurt our language abilities due to the large number of English speakers. Secondly, as we prepare for the next phase of the ministry, we will spend some time visiting churches and ministries in Korea.

In early 2018, we need to make a short furlough. Our son, Ethan, has been diagnosed with dyslexia and other learning difficulties. Our desire is to get him the help he needs so that each of us can be more effective in reaching others with the Gospel in Korea. Our dates are not set yet, but we are looking at beginning furlough in March. I will also take advantage of this time to raise new support for the next phase of our ministry. If you would like for us to report, please contact me at: daniel@danielelliottfamily.us.

Please be in prayer for a vehicle and housing that we can use during the time we are State-side.

For Souls,

Daniel Elliott
